Driving Semi over various areas of our country, XM Radio has become an very important tool. Having instant access to vital information is a large asset and one of the reasons I am willing to pay a monthly fee. The abillity to recieve info about changing weather conditions makes a daily difference in decisions about routes and time schedules. Having to search and possibly not finding needed info does not sound like a benefit. The ability to recieve info when in central Nevada, for example, is a benefit not otherwise available. Please reject any requests to prevent access to information only now becoming available because of satellite radio. Thank You, James McFall
